PROJECTS

Frontend Projects

CAGL Global Company Limited - Landing Page

As the sole frontend developer, I was instrumental in creating a visually appealing and informative landing page for CAGL Global Company Limited, a leading Nigerian oil and gas services company. My responsibilities included designing the user interface, developing the landing page, and ensuring it was optimized for search engines and mobile devices. Through my efforts, I helped establish CAGL Global's online presence and effectively communicate their expertise to potential clients.

Dxmien Photography - Landing Page

I was instrumental in transforming Dxmien Photography's artistic vision into a compelling online presence. By crafting a visually stunning and intuitive landing page, I showcased their exceptional photography portfolio, capturing the attention of potential clients and driving traffic to their website. My focus on user experience and attention to detail ensured that visitors could easily navigate the site and appreciate Dxmien's unique style.
